Story of the week
The Tiger Who Came To Tea.

Communication & Language

Sophie really enjoyed her Tea Party.
Organise a Tea Party for you and some of your favourite toys.

Talk about:
What will you need?
Who will you invite?
Where will you have your tea party?
What food would you like to eat?

Make a sandwich for your tea party.
What sandwich did you make? What did you use a knife for? Why did you wash your hands first?

Personal, Social, Emotional development

The tiger wasn't very polite when he ate all of Sophie's food. Can you think of some manners that he should need to remember when he visits someone else's house?

Literacy

Please listen to this week's story
The Tiger Who Came To Tea.

Can you talk about the story asking Who? What? Where? Why? Questions.

Can you sequence the story using the cards provided?
What can you remember from the story.

Physical Development

Below are some links for daily exercise routines for the children.

Mathematics

Keep practicing your touch counting and counting out skills.

Can you write numbers 0-1 0 yet

Go on a pattern hunt around your house – take a picture of the patterns you find.

Can you find a stripy pattern like the tiger? Or like the pattern on Sophie's tights? Maybe you might find a spotty pattern or a swirly one?

Can you make your own pattern using objects around the house?

Expressive Arts & Design

Tigers don't usually have a tea party in a house.

Where do tigers normally live?

Can you create the right environment for a tiger to live in?

This could be using junk modelling / painting / pencil and crayons.

Talk about: the colours and how colours can be changed.

Are the children interested in and can they describe the texture of things.

Can they use various construction materials in different ways?

Phonics

Metal Mike Robot

You can make a Metal Mike Robot or print off the one attached to Email.

Metal Mike can only understand sound talk and he gets very hungry.

Adults to sound talk one of the CVC pictures (attached) and ask children to find the right picture to feed to Metal Mike.

I Spy

Enjoy a game of I Spy with the children with 6 objects in front of you.

Understanding the World

Sophie enjoyed the tea party with the Tiger and she likes to spend time with her family.

Can you think of a special time when you were with your family?
Birthday / Wedding / Christmas

Tell someone about that special time and what made it so special.
